Help People Impacted by Lung Cancer

GET INVOLVED

Why We Participate in the Lung Cancer Voices Summit

After Elizabeth de Jong was diagnosed with stage IV ALK+ non-small cell lung cancer in September 2016, she and her husband Sven set out to embrace the advice given to them by her doctor to “keep making memories.” That has foremost meant spending as much time as possible with family and friends. But it’s also led them to be advocates for the cause, raising funds for lung cancer research and speaking out about being a lung cancer survivor.

A Powerlifter Turned Oncology Nurse Practitioner and a Marketing Pro Who Wanted to Run Away with the Band

Meet Joelle Fathi, powerlifter turned oncology nurse practitioner and Lori Millner, GO2 Foundation's new brand champion. Both Fathi, our new Chief Healthcare Delivery Officer, and Millner, our new Chief Marketing Officer, are poised to help GO2 Foundation and the lung cancer community as we expand our activities and work together to double survivorship rates by 2025.

New and Improved Lung Cancer Registry

Through our Lung Cancer Registry, we securely gather information from lung cancer patients across the globe – providing researchers with rich data from which we identify trends that can lead to new and better treatments for lung cancer patients. “The goal of the Global Lung Cancer Registry is to help researchers connect the dots between lung cancer patients around the world – finding hidden connections and turning them into answers to important questions,” said Laurie Fenton Ambrose, GO2 Foundation CEO and Co-founder.
