LUNG CANCER REGISTRY

What is the Lung Cancer Registry?

The Lung Cancer Registry is a collection of surveys made for people with lung cancer and their caregivers. The surveys are made up of questions that help you tell your lung cancer story.

Your story has power!

No one knows more about lung cancer than you. Taking part in the Lung Cancer Registry gives you the power to impact the future of lung cancer care and help others.

Why is the Lung Cancer Registry important?

Your story, along with the stories of others, gives researchers the facts and data they need to help improve lung cancer care. The more people that join the registry, the more they are able to learn and help others!

Start today!

- Register for a free and secure account
- Share your story by completing surveys ranging from 5-20 minutes
- We find connections, trends, and clues to help answer big research questions
- Research is published, care is advanced and lung cancer survivors live longer, better lives

We need you.

"We need your data. This can help not only our generation of lung cancer patients, but generations to come so that we can learn why this happens, what causes it, and possibly even learn what we can do to stop it."

- Sydney Barsed (lung cancer survivor and registry participant)
